NEW TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT

Liposomal Technology

Advanced encapsulation system designed to improve absorption and protect active ingredients.

Benefits:

- o Enhanced bioavailability
- o Improved stability of actives
- o Efficient delivery at cellular level

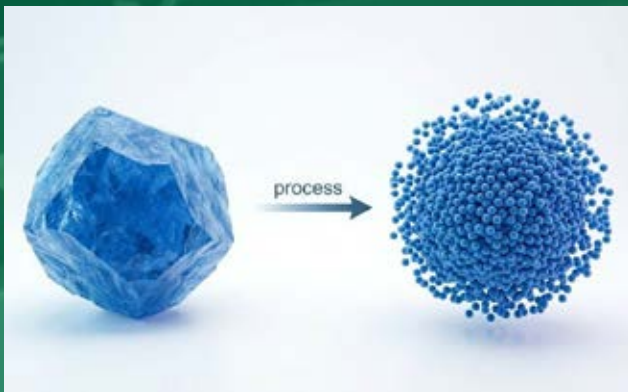

Micronization Technology

Particle size reduction process that enhances solubility and dispersion of ingredients.

Benefits:

- o Faster dissolution
- o Improved absorption
- o Uniform particle distribution

Phytosome Technology

Technology that binds herbal actives with phospholipids to improve absorption and effectiveness.

Benefits:

- o Increased bioavailability
- o Better stability of actives
- o Enhanced performance in formulations

Granulation Technology

Process that converts powders into uniform, free-flowing granules for improved handling and usage.

Benefits:

- o Better flowability
- o Reduced dust formation
- o Improved compressibility

FOUNDER'S NOTE

Mr. Bhashkar Dwivedi
Founder & Managing Director

"During my years as a B.Pharm student, I was always fascinated by one question — how can natural ingredients be transformed into reliable health solutions through science? That curiosity slowly turned into a passion for herbal extracts, nutraceuticals, and the growing role of preventive wellness in modern healthcare.

In 2013, that passion became the foundation of Herbo Nutra Extract Pvt Ltd. What began with a small vision to provide quality herbal ingredients has today evolved into a company trusted by brands across the pharmaceutical, nutraceutical, and wellness industries.

Like many professionals from pharmacy and life sciences backgrounds, I understood early that the real challenge is not just making products — it is creating ingredients that are consistent, authentic, scientifically supported, and capable of earning long-term trust. That belief continues to guide everything we do at Herbo Nutra.

Our journey has always been driven by learning, innovation, and the excitement of exploring what nature still has to offer. Every extract we develop and every partnership we build reflects our commitment to quality, research, and responsible growth.

I sincerely thank our customers, partners, and team members who continue to be part of this journey. Together, we look forward to shaping a stronger future for natural wellness.
